GETTING YOUR BOAT READY FOR THE SEASON

Most boat owners think carefully about storage options and winterization when it's time to put their boats away for the winter, but it is just as important to think carefully about de-winterizing before your first launch in the Spring.

Follow these tips to make sure your first launch is memorable for all the right reasons!

- Do a complete visual inspection. First, see how your boat looks overall. Your hull should be free of chips, blisters, and chalky residue. If you have blisters in your hull, repair them. Chalky residue could indicate oxidation, meaning that the gelcoat needs to be repaired or compound and waxed.
- Check your windshield wipers, if your craft is so equipped. Replace if necessary and clean your windshield.
- Impellers should be changed seasonally. Not changing will result in overheating.

- Bottom Paint & Zincs—if stored in the water this is very important.
- If you didn't change the oil at the end of the season last year, do it now.
- Check your electronics GPS, compass, depth finders, and any on-board electronics need to be tested to make sure they are in working order. Repair or replace as necessary.
- Finally, check your batteries and replace as needed.

If you aren't up to these tasks, we can help you out here at Harbour Cove. Let us know if you need service and we will get you scheduled right away!
